

Middlesex School Summer Arts

March 13, 2020

Dear MSSA Families and Friends,

Middlesex School Summer Arts is closely monitoring the on-going developments related to the coronavirus, or COVID-19. We are coordinating with Middlesex School and following the recommendations of the CDC and local health officials.

As COVID-19 continues to spread and restrictions are extended locally and abroad, Middlesex's COVID-19 group has been meeting every other day to develop plans for the best possible outcomes for safety, health and the learning of our students and staff.

At MSSA, the safety and well-being of our campers, staff, and families is our top priority. At this point in time, we are not making any changes to our summer season and are moving forward for camp to start in June. However, given the speed with which this health crisis is unfolding and the uncertainty surrounding the public health implications, we will re-evaluate with each new development and will communicate any changes as soon as possible.

As our community faces an uncertain future in regards to COVID-19, be assured MSSA and Middlesex School is keeping its focus on the health and safety of all who participate in our programs. As we prepare for what may come, we will continue to make this our highest priority.

Please be safe, stay healthy, WASH YOUR HANDS, and we will see you in June.

With best regards,
